[From the Franklin Commonwealth.]
An Irishman's View upon the American Question.

An intelligent and learned Irishman, and a citizen of this country, has sent us the following appeal to his countrymen upon the great question of the day. We commend his sound, conservative, patriotic production to the perusal of all our readers, and especially to the perusal of our adopted citizens of Irish birth:

To the Editor of the Commonwealth:—
SIR: It has been remarked by some philosophers of times past, that the man who causes one blade of grass to grow where none grew before, is a benefactor to the human race. Should I then, by submitting the following considerations to the cool reflection of my esteemed countrymen, induce even one of them to pause, for an instant, amid the political turmoil which surrounds them, and deliberately ask himself to how much of it he is individually accessory, I would not consider my suggestion ill-timed or uncalled for. I address myself particularly to the Irish portion of the foreign population—the new Hibernians—the pure Miltetian Irish;—the men with the green leeks of royalty—the mangled Orangemen—I shall have nothing to do.

It is well known to every Irishman, that in many vain attempts which have been periodically made through the space of three hundred years, to shake off the incubus of British ascendancy, our only and constant cry was—“Hibernia for the Irish!” This cannot be denied. We were even satisfied to remain an appendage to the British crown, if they only allowed us the privilege of being governed by “native-born” officers. How then can we consistently complain of the party now organizing in this country, named the American party—a party whose only object it is to preserve intact and inviolate, the dearly bought heir-looms of that crusade for freedom, the most glorious since the morning of creation, when the stars of Heaven sang together with joy? A party which will ever remain the only break-water on earth between liberty and oppression, perpetuating the blessings of existence to remotest time, and ultimately saving us from our worst enemy—viz: ourselves. If we are to suffer any injustice it is merely of a negative character. They do not propose to deprive you of the proceeds of your honest toil; they do not aim to send forth those clerical loaves to drag you out of “one tenth” of your substance. Generously and hospitably they invite you to partake of the fertility of their land, but they contend for non-interference on our part in the management of their domestic policy. It is with the body politic as with the body physical, extremes are hurtful. We cannot escape from the burning heat of the torrid zone, and plunge immediately into the frozen streams of the North; we cannot, without danger, parch in the desert and level in the first spring we meet; neither can we with safety emerge from the dark and debasing thralldom of a hereditary bondage, into the noonday blaze of freedom, without a long and healthy training. Gratitude has been at all times characteristic of our race. The gratitude of an Irishman is like Juvenal's bird, “RARA AVIS IN TERRA, NICROGUS SIMILIMA CYGNO.”

Then let us prove to the American people that their countless favors are not forgotten—that we have determined to separate from the political parvenues who have meanly speculated on our impetuous feelings, and religious fears, and now when the crisis has come, and the true American spirit is culminating heavenward, they are quitting us weakened as a party and despised as a people.—There was a time when the word American sounded like the music of Heaven in our lacerated hearts; when the generous stream of American sympathy flowed warm and deep towards the perishing and oppressed children of green Erin.—When her strong men were sinking by thousands into their coffinless graves, the arm of America was stretched across the wave, and nobly rescued the remnant from a lingering annihilation, and how have we repaid her? We have actually helped to carry out, by our conduct at the ballot box, the solemn in free governments, that the minority shall govern. We have aided to ostracize from power and place the wisest and bravest men of this country, and substitute in their places a nondescript species of animals, who are now the laughing stock of the gathered fools of the European cabinets.—Even he, the patriot of humanity, the sage of Ashland, whose wisdom more than once checkmated the wily cabinet of our hereditary foe; whose brilliant emanations awoke the slumbering embers of expiring liberty in the wild pampas of South America; whose undying eloquence recited under the camp-fires of Greece and Poland, nerved the heart of Sullote and Sarmatian to do or die—even he, ever glorious even in defeat, was pulled down from his high and well merited aspirations, through the instrumentality of street politicians and “barbarous” patriots. Why not then abandon this suicidal course, which will ultimately end in our discomfiture and disgrace? Can we wish for a nobler, a bolier termination, than was that of the founders of this heaven-favored Republic? What comforts in life were theirs? A life of privation and toil. A grave in the battlefield—but with the proud consciousness that they were leaving to their successors—

“A hope, a name,
But you may reply, your religion is threatened by this American party. I was always of opinion that a man's religion was perfectly independent of external contingencies—an invisible connection between the Creator and creature, ratified by an approving conscience, and if founded on the immutable promises of Heaven, it cannot be subverted by human agency. If it has survived the shocks of persecutions for eighteen centuries, no earthly power can now assail it. Besides, the great majority of the American people are perfectly indifferent to the propagation of any particular creed. If it be not connected with the State, they care not whether you reverence the Grand Lama of Tibet, the Patriarch of Constantinople, or the Roman Pontiff—while the teachers of the other denominations, (the sentinels on the watch-towers of Zion,) are too busy swearing at each other, or trying to secure a place in Congress. Ere it is too late then, pause in your present injudicious career. Amalgamate, unite, heart and soul, with the great national party before which all other parties must of necessity succumb. All the elements of durability, extension and success, are united in it. Its members are numerous, national, and intelligent. A reading population has power among them; a writing population has power; a power certain in its effect and irresistible in its control, carrying with it either the principles of fertility or the cause of devastation, like the lightning of Heaven, adapted either to purify or destroy. You must not think these sentiments are intended to wound your feelings as Irishmen. I have been at the first epoch of American existence, swept along by the unmeaning cry of soulless Democracy, and though I may dissent from the political creed of a majority of my countrymen, I cannot forget that I have drawn my first sustenance from the bosom of Green Erin, and would, if her foes would permit, like the dying Argive, draw my last sigh by the side of her waters, ET DUCES MORIENS REMINISCITUR ARGOS.

HEBER.

The following account of the death of Thomas D. Brown, Esq., of Elizabethtown, by violence, is from the Louisville Journal, of Monday. Mr. Brown was a member of the Constitutional Convention of this State in 1849, and was regarded as a man of considerable ability:

BLOODY AFFRAY AT ELIZABETHTOWN.—We learn that on Saturday Thomas D. Brown, Esq., clerk of the court at Elizabethtown, was shot and killed by Mr. W. S. English, merchant of that place.—Some unpleasant words passed between the parties in the street, and Mr. Brown went into his office and Mr. English into his store. Both came out shortly afterwards, and Mr. English shot Mr. Brown with a gun, killing him we understand on the spot. We are not informed whether Mr. Brown displayed a weapon or whether he had one upon his person. We knew Mr. Brown quite well. He seemed to us an amiable and kind hearted man, but he sometimes indulged a little too freely in the use of the ardent. We believe he had but recently recovered from a severe wound received by him in his last encounter with our friend Dr. B. R. Young. We deeply sympathize with his family. He leaves a son who has talent enough to win a distinguished reputation.

In this common-worshipping age, it is rare to find a man place his usefulness to the public, before his interest. During a late visit to the “City of Spindles,” we were presented by a professional friend to the celebrated chemist, Dr. James C. Ayer, whose name is now perhaps more familiar at the bedside of sickness than any other in this country. Knowing the unprecedented popularity of his medicines, and the immense sale of them, we expected to find him a millionaire, and residing in wealth. But no, we found him in his laboratory, busy with his labors, among his crucibles, alembics, and retorts—living his best personal care to the compounds, on the virtues of which thousands hang for health. We learned that, notwithstanding his vast business and its prompt returns in cash, the Doctor is not rich. The reason assigned is, that the material is costly, and he persists in making his preparations so expensively, that the net profit is small.

Consumption and Spitting Blood.—See the certificate of Mr. Turner H. Ramsey, for many years proprietor of the Farmers' Hotel, Fr. d. Richmond, Va., and late of the City Hotel, Richmond, Va.

Dr. John Minge, of the city of Richmond, though a regular physician, and of course opposed to what he called quack medicines, was obliged to say that its good effects in the case of Mr. Ramsey, were wonderful indeed.

He had been given up by several physicians; had tried most of the quack medicines, and was on the verge of despair, as well as the grave, when he tried Carter's Spanish Mixture.

We refer the public to his full and lengthy certificate around the bottle, stating his cure. See advertisement, Feb. 15, 4w

“The whole press of Philadelphia, as they are prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson. We are glad to record the success of this valuerable remedy for dyspepsia, as we believe it supplies a desideratum in the medical world long needed. The wretched imitators and counterfeits have withdrawn their nostrums from the market, and the public are spared from the danger of swallowing poisonous mixtures in lieu of the real Bitters.”—Herald. It is a fact established and well known that the Arabs attained a height in the knowledge of medicine which caused the whole world to wonder and admire. With them the science of chemistry had its birth, and it is, therefore, not at all strange that a people so eminently successful in the healing art, and so persevering and daring in character, should, by actual and untiring experiment, discover remedies far surpassing in efficacy all others, for the cure of those diseases incident to them from their mode of life. The greater part of their time being spent in hazardous and bloody warfare with the different tribes, they were subject to the most violent attacks of rheumatism, neuralgia, pains, and various inflammatory diseases, as also the usual wounds, sprains, bruises, tumors, swellings, diseases of the joints, etc., etc. All these diseases they were so surprisingly efficient in curing, that the uninitiated looked with wonder and attributed their skill to the powers of magic. H. G. FARRELL'S ARABIAN LINIMENT is a composition of balsams and oils, from rare plants peculiar to his country, and it was by the use of the articles composing the great remedy that not only their physicians, but even the wild Arabs of the desert were enabled to perform such miraculous cures. The Arab steed is world-renowned for his beautiful symmetry of form, his unsurpassed speed and agility, and the inner vigor which he is capable of enduring. Why is it? Because from the time of his birth his limbs are carefully watched, and upon the first appearance of disease the magic lotion is applied, and such things as confirmed swellings, polli, fistula, ringbone, scratches, sprain, lameness, etc., etc., are unknown. The same result will follow in all cases where H. G. Farrell's Genuine Arabian Liniment is used in time. Therefore delay not in procuring a good supply of it, for every dealer in it will save you twenty, and a good deal of suffering, if not your life.

FOR RENT.

I wish to rent the store room in Cincinnati, now in the occupancy of P. P. Carter and the store room in the town, opposite my dwelling, and two doors south of the Lexington House. The store room is large, well constructed and fitted up either for a dry goods or grocery store. The dwelling is in good repair, and every way desirable, having a good garden in the rear of it, large and well cultivated. A person desiring to pursue a profitable business, or a family would do well to secure the above premises. A full description will be given on the 1st of April next.

Cincinnati, March 15, 1855.
Geo. W. WATSON, Jr.
